Abstract:

Within the framework of the efforts aimed at confronting the Corona pandemic, the legislator has withdrawn many of the strict provisions related to the conclusion and implementation of public deals within the aforementioned framework, and this is evident through two aspects, the first being the adaptation of the legal framework governing public deals with variables with the pandemic, by adapting The procedural aspect with the pandemic variables, whether upon conclusion or upon implementation, while the second aspect is to reduce the intensity of previous control over public deals, through the compulsory visa of the Public Deals Committee to the financial controller, in addition to the possibility of overcoming the latter's refusal to grant his visa to the draft deal.

Key words: public deals - Corona pandemic – censorship.
